Who We Are

Built in South Africa. Built for compliance.

ISOGuardian is a South African technology company on a mission to make ISO compliance accessible, affordable, and effortless for businesses of all sizes.

We believe that compliance shouldn't be a burden. It should be a competitive advantage. Our platform replaces the spreadsheets, filing cabinets, and manual processes that cost businesses thousands of hours each year — with a single, intelligent system that does the heavy lifting for you.

Founded in 2026 by Tyreece Kruger, ISOGuardian was born from first-hand experience of the pain points that South African businesses face when pursuing and maintaining ISO certification. We're not just building software — we're building the future of compliance in Africa.
